DEATH BY NOOSE
WOMAN'S CHOICEChicago Murderess Rejects Life Behind BarsAccomplices in Crime Dodge Gallows by PleaCourt Accepts Election and Passes Sentence*

CHICAGO. June 26. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Catherine Cassier, 43-year-old woman bootlegger of Chicago, Ind., chose death on the gallows rather than life imprisonment without a moment's hesitation yesterday in Judge Sullivan's criminal court. She was given the alternative by the judge, who was about to pass upon her motion for a new trial made following instructions of the defense attorney by a jury which convicted her for her part in the murder of William Lindstrom, who was beaten to death on December 8, 1926.

The former farm woman, who turned bootlegger and listened with out emotion to the judge pass life imprisonment sentences, with solitary confinement on each anniversary of the crime, on Mrs. Lillian Frasier and Loren Patrick, who had pleaded guilty and turned state's witness. Mrs. Cassier had left her husband to live with Lindstrom, and Patrick was the handy man and alcohol runner for Mrs. Cassier. They killed Lindstrom for $7500 insurance policy.

MERCY EXTENDED

"Now, Mrs. Cassier, the court is of the opinion that the jury was justified in finding you guilty and imposing the extreme penalty, but in view of the sentence I have imposed on your two co-defendants, I will give you a reprieve if you care to plead guilty. The judgment of this court will probably be different from that fixed by the jury," said Judge Sullivan, one of the youthful members of the bench.

With a weary expression which resembled a smile on her lips, Mrs. Cassier without hesitation turned to her attorney, W. W. Wilson, and rejected the offer.

"Nothing can induce me to plead guilty," she said. "I am innocent."

"Very well," said the judge. "There is not the possibility of a doubt that you are guilty. You will be held in custody. It is my duty, though a difficult one, to impose the death sentence on anyone, particularly a woman. Motion for a new trial is overruled."

"What quality, why should I?" she suddenly replied when interviewed. "You had a chance to save your life if you did," she was informed.

Slowly she folded her arms across her body and stood silent toward Mrs. Cassier, who still served a life sentence, Mrs. Cassier said.

NO LIFE FOR HER
"That is no life—behind prison bars. I would sooner die on the gallows than that. I do not know whether or money will be forthcoming for an appeal to the Supreme Court, but if it is not I am ready to die."

Miss Cassier, the third woman to be put under death sentence. The last was Mrs. Sophie Nitti, who murdered her husband, but she here.

ARTIST'S SWAN SONG REAL*Pet of Fortune, Infatuated With Aged Charmer, Plays Piano as Gas Brings Death*

PARIS. June 26. (Exclusive)—The entire American colony in the Latin Quarter of Paris was shocked today by the suicide of Lawrence Murphy, 27 years of age, of Baltimore. This lad had almost everything any human being could desire. He was well-to-do, of good family, a gifted musician, a fine artist, was popular, had a pleasant personality and hosts of friends and prospects for a career as a painter.

At 8 o'clock this morning Murphy novelized. "Mrs. B. B." is a grandmother entered his apartment in the Latin Quarter who has taken either beauty cues from the young or the old. She was infatuated with him and his reputation. Although a grandmother, she looks younger than her daughters.

Had she called at the apartment before 10 o'clock this morning the young American would have been alive now.

Although madly in love with the woman Murphy realized the hopelessness of having married life with her. Yet he loved no other except his mother. He let her note say:

"On Mr. Murphy's door was a note saying: 'I am not at home except to Mrs. B. B.' This note was the keynote of the tragedy.

The young man loved one of those rejuvenated women read about in several thousand of them. He was granted a new trial by the Superior Court and later liberated. He was a negro, who also ultimately escaped punishment.

HERO SCOUTS HONORED*Five Medals Awarded for Heroism, One Posthumous Tribute*

NEW YORK. June 26. (P)—The Boy Scouts for heroism were announced today at the national offices of the Boy Scouts of America. Seven certificates of heroism also were awarded, bringing the total for the year to seventeen medals and twenty-eight certificates.

A medal will be given to the paraplegic Scout Harold Hermon, 15 years of age, of Portsmouth, O., who lost his life in an attempt to save Harry Eckford, also 15, from drowning in Pond Creek, Ohio. Others honored were George E. Shoberland, 18, Danvers, Mass.; Arthur Howell, 13, and Samuel Lancaster, 16, of Booneville, Mo., for rescuing Brownie Meimyer, 6, who had fallen through the ice forty feet from shore; and an Eagle Scout, Richard Plummer, 17, Rosedale, Mass.

PLUMBER ENDS LIFE*Shoots Self When Girl Refuses to Wed Him While He Had No Job*

SAFETY LAST TO ARRIVE
SAN FRANCISCO, June 26. (P)—Claude Daniels, 20 years of age, former student at Santa Clara University, fired a bullet into his brain when Miss Ruth E. Oaks, San Francisco school teacher, refused to consent to wed. Daniels, known to his employer as a "bright boy," was a glibber by occupation.

On Thursday morning he had taken a marriage license but Miss Oaks, a graduate of the University of Washington, believed it unwise to marry while her husband-to-be had no means of support.

Miss Oaks is a physical education instructor at the girls' high school

Texas Rattler Taken Measures 16 Inches Round

TEMPEL (Tex.) June 26. (Exclusive)—A rattlesnake measuring 16 inches in circumference was captured alive recently by James Temple on a farm near Temple having effected capture of the reptile with a cord and at the opportunity catching him around the neck.

For verification of his story he said the rattler caged in a wire cage is showing it around. The snake is about the largest in respect to circumference ever found in this state.

Twenty Kirghiz Noblemen Under Arrest in Russia

PRONZE (formerly Orenburg, Russia) June 26. (AP)—Twenty Kirghiz noblemen have been arrested and banished and their property, including some 30,000 sheep, has been confiscated, it was reported yesterday.

"We have no place to go."

The action was ordered by republican authorities because of former Czarist affiliations of the called noblemen. The latter had three days ago fled Moscow, their home meeting place, after a conference, a common conference of all classes.

FRIDAY MORNING.

LONG PERIL IN TORADO PASTLONG AIR TOUR STARTS TODAY*Fifteen Planes Ready for Hop-off From Detroit*Thirteen Will Compete for Edsel B. Ford Trophy*Fifty-one Passengers to Be Carried on Trip

DETROIT, June 26. (P) — Fifteen airplanes which failed to melt away the heavy mountain snows in Wyoming, and others that evaporated large portions of snow banks, were in preventing the Colorado River from overflowing its banks, said M. C. Hinderider, State engineer. The weather was not forthcoming at the time, and its branches had been cut off again when the flood had already passed. Engineers are not competing.

The distance of the tour, taking the contestants to the Atlantic seaboard, through Dallas, Fort Worth, and back to Detroit, will total 4000 miles. Tomorrow the planes are scheduled to hop off for Buffalo.

Woman Smashes Liquor Still in Kentucky Gulch

FRANKLIN (Ky.) June 26. (Exclusive) — Mrs. Babe Dodson, a widow in the Monroe county hills, had been disturbed during sleeping hours by drunken men passing her house and disturbing her. She appealed to authorities for help, somehow, the disturbance continued.

Finally, she armed herself with a hefty, man's-sized axe and, accompanied by her small son, invaded a deep ravine which she suspected was operating a source of moonshine. She found her suspicions well founded. While her son stood guard against any "blowers" who might arrive before work time, Mrs. Dodson cut the still to pieces and destroyed the moonshiners' equipment. She is no longer annoyed by drunken passers-by.

Reds and Trade Unionists Put on Demonstration

LONDON, June 26. (P) — British Peasants and Communists wrangled, fought with fists, smashed fences and unloosed a flock of sheep in one corner of Hyde Park this afternoon as a sort of side show, while many thousands of trade unionists in another section of the park were engaged in a great demonstration against the pending Trade Union bill.

Long columns of men, women and children trooped across London from the East End to pledge themselves and their families to the trades union "against attack by the Tory government."

Lady Cynthia Mosley, daughter of the late Lord Curzon, former Foreign Secretary, was one of the principal speakers at the demonstration.

Angeleno Youth Spends Days in Abandoned Well

TUCSON (Ariz.) June 26. (P) — Encrusted and worn and suffering from a broken ankle, Emeterio Abita, 18 years of age, said to live at 1029 Valencia street, Los Angeles, was saved from drowning yesterday when he was taken from an abandoned well into which he had fallen five days ago.

The well, which is about sixty feet deep, is located five miles south of Tucson on a deserted ranch on the old Nogales road. Only an inch or so of water remains in the well. A board railing about two feet high protects the top of the well, but from a partially broken board obtained from the youth a board apparently gave way as he leaned against it, causing him to lose his balance and throwing him into the abandoned shaft.

Fire Destroys Ten Shipways at Hog Island

PHILADELPHIA, June 26. (P) — Fire tonight destroyed ten shipways at Hog Island, the government's wartime ship-building plant, and so far as the flames menaced the seventy-five steel vessels, relics of war days, anchored near the shipways. Three firemen and two workers at the yard were injured in fighting the fire. Operations at Hog Island were discontinued several years ago.

MACMILLAN'S ARCTIC VENTURE FOGBOUND

CHRISTMAS COVE (Me.) June 26. (P) — The Arctic expedition headed by Commander Donald B. Macmillan has been told by radio and a thick cable and the departure for Rockland, scheduled for today, was delayed until early tomorrow. Commander Macmillan said that weather conditions were favorable for the start tomorrow. The schooner, the Udine Utley, was anchored off Christmas Cove, having arrived here last night. The other schooner, the Radio, was in Booth Bay Harbor, five miles distant.

GIRL KILLED TAKING SHOTGUN FROM CAR

PHOENIX, June 26. (P) — Lillian Yeager, 19 years of age, a high school girl of Scottsdale, ten miles northeast of here, died in a local hospital tonight from the effects of abdominal wounds received this afternoon when a shotgun charge penetrated her body. She had been attempting to remove the gun when it was discharged.

Neither did Dr. Stratton mention his having laid the laying of the gun on his hands. No reference was made to the resignation of five of the fifteen deacons, who charged that Dr.

"We need to try all of the spirits, not alone Pentecostal spirits, and especially the spirits of those unbelieving preachers who deny fundamental truths."

Dr. Stratton declared that some members of the pulpit were making an effort to discredit Udine Utley.

"While the modernists have played

"It is part of God's scheme to send this 13-year-old prophetess as a rebuke to them."

It was reported today that three of the five deacons who resigned announced that they also will resign as members of the board of trustees.

The Landau Sedan $895 Body by Fisher

Surpassing last year's success

Not even its electrifying success during 1926—not even its tremendous sales, which more than doubled the best previous first-year record of any new make of car—

Not even these amazing achievements can compare with the present-day triumphs of the New and Finer Pontiac Six!

The reasons for this spectacular advance in popularity are obvious. Always a surpassing value, the New and Finer Pontiac Six now towers above its field like a beacon in the night.

Vivid new beauty enhances the fine craftsmanship of its new lower bodies by Fisher. Chassis refinements emphasize the thrilling performance of its famous six-cylinder motor. Fresh and original combinations of enduring Duco lend a marked note of style to its six smart body types. Yet, even with all these improvements the New and Finer Pontiac Six sells for new low prices!

Never has such surpassing value been offered in a low-priced quality six. Never has any car of its price kindled such wildfire buying enthusiasm! And never has any car in its class so clearly deserved such success.

STRATON AGAIN FLAYS FOES

Pastor Denies Belief in Pentecostalism and Also Defends 13-Year-Old Girl Evangelist

NEW YORK, June 26. (P) — Dr. John Roach Stratton, speaking from his pulpit in Calvary Baptist Church tonight, turned a denial of a belief in Pentecostalism into an attack on his ancient foes, the modernists, and took occasion to defend Udine Utley, 13-year-old girl evangelist.

If the audience that filled the pews, aisle and all available standing room had expected Dr. Stratton to relate on the floor "uttering unintelligible words and singing beautifully" at an all-night prayer meeting, they were disappointed.

Neither did Dr. Stratton mention his having laid the laying of the gun on his hands. No reference was made to the resignation of five of the fifteen deacons, who charged that Dr.

"We need to try all of the spirits, not alone Pentecostal spirits, and especially the spirits of those unbelieving preachers who deny fundamental truths."

Mines, Railways and Communications of Arizona Show Higher Rating

PHOENIX, June 26. (P) — Increases aggregating nearly $18,000,000 over the preceding year are shown in the statement of the assessed valuations of producing mines, railroad properties and telegraph and telephone properties in the State for the year 1927 issued by the Arizona Tax Commission.

The report of the commission shows that the productive mines were assessed for 1927 taxation purposes at $75,026,267, as against $65,092,329 for the year 1926, an increase of $1,135,268.

The valuations placed on the railroad properties in the State for the year 1927 total $109,830,046, as against $108,150,785 for the year 1926, an increase of $1,679,261.

The telegraph and telephone properties in the State were assessed for 1927 taxation purposes at $85,676,988 as compared to $85,100,398 for 1926, a net gain of $566,790.

OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES

Ulysses S. Grant, who rose to be the chief commander of the Union forces in the Civil War, and twice elected President of the United States, spent his boyhood days in a small town and on a farm in Ohio.

Grant's father ran a tannery in Georgetown, Ohio, and sometimes Ulysses helped him with his work. Mr. Grant also owned considerable farming land in the surrounding country.

Ulysses disliked to work in his father's tannery, and preferred to do all the chores around the farm. He was particularly fond of horses.

The boy's chief delight was to ride the family horse, and ride over to visit his grandparents, who lived fifteen miles away.

June 26. (Exclusive)—Invasion of the slave girl evil in Ninghsia Province has been ordered by the government. A large committee under the leadership of Han-sang, a woman lawyer, has been formed to eradicate the practice. The large number of Chinese, only twenty hours daily, will not be able to leave the houses of their masters without special permission, and will be unable to buy their liberty without compensation of the master. An attempt was made to make selling of female compulsory if cash were tendered.

Though the slave girls may now marry, the most sensible choice for them by their masters (and here more money transactions will come in to the benefit of the owners) but in one respect the slaves are better off, for they have the power of voting any man chosen for them if they do not like him, and can not be forced into "blind marriages" with men who are never seen. Concubinage is also to be ended by the new law, it is hoped.

Hough Sluggers were a pleasant mood yesterday and the Stars probably are still wondering what struck them. The Angels pounded their way to a double victory, however, and won 16 to 5 and 8 to 1, capturing the odd game of the series from the home team and clinching to within one point of the sixth-place Mission Bells.

It was a big afternoon—four home runs, two of them with two men on, as well as numerous and sudden runs.

The women's race was won by Miss Adeline Whaling of San Diego. Florence Chambers, three-time winner of the event, was second, and Cecily Gumb of Santa Monica, last year's champion, placed third.

Stevenson's time was 7m. 24, and Miss Whaling's, 8m. 52s.

More than 150 swimmers participated in the races.

De Lara Wins in City Tennis Final Round

Jack De Lara, a product of the Griffith Park tennis courts, featured the final round of matches, for the city championships at Griffith Park yesterday, winning in the men's singles and doubles and the mixed doubles.

De Lara defeated Al Duff by scores of 6-4, 6-4, 6-4, to win the singles. Paired with Dale Isenbuth he won the men's doubles from Page and Hough, 6-4, 6-4, and, partnered with Miss Hoyt, he won the mixed doubles from Robinson and Williamson, 6-1, 7-5.

Gladys Pate won the women's singles, defeating Miss Hoyt in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3.

A special event, the veterans' singles, fell to March, who defeated Wacholski in two sets, 6-2, 8-5.

De Lara will be back to compete in August to compete in the national municipal championships.

Jimmy Page, star U.S.C. yearling hurdler, should just about take Dye's place in the high hurdles and while the points Houser would win could be with Charles, Berah, Lee Barnes, Henry Coggeshall, Capt. Ken Grumbe, Charles Harlow and other stars.

Dye, however, did not make the cut.

Gerald Stratford, former national collegiate tennis champion from California, featured the final matches in the Southern California championships on the courts of the Los Angeles Tennis Club yesterday, winning in both singles and doubles. He defeated Ray Casey to take the singles crown, and won from Casey and Brown in the doubles, paired with Harold Godshall. Miss Marion Williams (inset) won the women's single championship, defeating Midge Gladman, Santa Monica school girl, in a hard match.

BEAR OARSMEN DRILL

California Rowers Defy Wind and Rough Water to Take Workout; Boat of Substitutes Swamped

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) June 26. (AP)—California's oarsmen defied to day the wind and rough water that have been constantly handicapping for the past three days the workouts of entries for the Poughkeepsie regatta June 29, but didn't get away with it very long.

While Washington's Huskies were taking the off, as is their custom because of the Sabbath, the Golden Bears loaded into their shells for a work-out that lasted less than half an hour.

The varsity, junior varsity and freshman eights got a little exercise and displayed maneuvering skill in keeping from being swamped. In the other shell, found the going so rough that they were soon awash and forced to abandon ship. The boat, as well as the oarsmen, was rescued without much damage, but the rest of the workout was canceled.

Columbia and Cornell crews also put out for brief spins but the others kept to their quarters or took hikes. Water conditions have hampered Washington's workouts to such an extent that the Huskies have had only two drill sessions in the past five days instead of the six they would have had normally.

An automatic timing device, electrically operated, will be given a trial. West is in all probability, but the usual stop watches will be used just the same as a precaution. The new device is the invention of Charles Sheafe, Jr., of Harvard.

UNRULY SPARRING PARTNER CUTS MICKEY WALKER'S EYE ON EVE OF TITLE BATTLE

LONDON, June 26. (AP)—Mickey Walker, the American title-holder, received a serious cut over the eye in his final hard work-out yesterday in preparation for his bout Thursday night with Tommy Milligan for the middleweight championship.

The American champion had been complaining about too small attendance at his training quarters and the presence of several hundred spectators. Walker to spirit him up.

West is said to have harbored the idea and to have expressed himself freely that he could whip Walker. He volunteered his services as a sparring partner when Walker began training several weeks ago. Jack Keay, manager of Tommy Milligan, objected to West as a sparring partner, but Mickey, who had heard of West's boasts, overruled them and said "let him come on."

Last-Minute News From Petroleum Fields and Marts of TradeNEW TANK FARM READY SHORTLY

Plant of Associated in Kern Nears Completion

Project Declared Most Highly Developed in Field

Entire System Estimated as Costing $367,000

BAKERSFIELD, June 26. (Exclusive)—The Associated Oil Company will have the most highly developed oil storage property in Kern county by September when it brings to a close a two-year development program in the Kern River oil field. The system will cost about $367,000 when completed.

The development will end when three waste-oil catch basins, now being constructed in the lower end of the field near Kern River at a cost of $60,000, are completed in August. The program began with the spending of $25,000 to erect oil impounding embankments that now surround massive reservoirs on Sec. 5, 20, 21, 22, just north of the paved oil highway. In the first year of the two projects $72,000 was spent in surrounding and covering the big tanks with antilighting aerials and screens.

In ten years the catch basins should be completed, relieving the oil company of a former liability amounting to $60,000 a year in cleaning Kern River irrigation canals of waste oil carried into the water course during storms. The catch basins now receive any oil from reaching irrigation ditches in the future, it is said. Of the three basins constructed the largest covers approximately forty-seven acres, while the two smaller ones embrace fifteen and twenty acres.

Although the newly erected series of lightning-protection towers, resembling 100-foot high radio aerials, surrounding the storage tanks and tanks with antilighting screens, offer some certain protection, another fire at the Associated Oil Company increased its protection against fire by removing the roofs from the nine reservoirs last month.

Memorial of the tank roofs resulted in the lowering of insurance rates. Insurance companies contending that roofs collected gases and created an explosion menace. In turn the lowering of insurance rates will pay for evaporation losses in the open storage, it is asserted.

Geology Course at University to be Opened Today

A summer lecture and demonstration course in economic geology, discussing geological products of commercial value, such as petroleum, coal, natural gas, etc., will open today at the University of Southern California in charge of Allen E. Sedgwick, head of the department of geology.

Lectures will be placed on modes of occurrence, genesis, distribution and production.

Industrial chemistry also will be covered in a summer course beginning today, headed by W. Scott, instructor of chemistry in the industries, especially those of a local interest and industrial plants.

ALTERED CARBONATE

HAWTHORNE (Nev.) June 7.—Question: I am sending you under separate cover two samples of rock which pan a long string of white crystals. Will you kindly analyze and let me know what the specimen contain and oblige. H.

Answer: Both samples are altered garnet rock. The white crystals are quartz. The specimens are from the same locality. No. 1 is a siliceous sandstone with a few small garnet grains. No. 2 is a dolomitic limestone with a few small garnet grains.

Many tests have been made in local oil fields under fire department supervision, to determine the effectiveness of floating decks on roofs of storage tanks. The results have been tested by floating oil a foot or two deep on top of the pontoon and igniting it. In each case as soon as the surface of oil has been burned off and the oil beneath the pontoon not been damaged. The danger of explosion is eliminated because gas cannot collect under the pontoon, and the oil beneath the pontoon escaped through the crevices between the edge of the pontoon and the tank.

Floating pontoons of this nature are being manufactured at the present places in the United States, although the idea was only perfected in 1921. The Gallagher Company in this city has made a great many installations in Montana and California this year. The idea was first started at Santa Fe Springs, a number of years ago.

PLAN PLANE CONTEST

BOSTON, June 26. (Exclusive)—The promotion of light airplane contests as a sporting event in Boston or in near-by cities was taken up recently at a meeting of a group of Boston aviation and automobile reporters. Edward F. Warner, held at the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

YUMA (Ariz.) June 26. (Exclusive)—I enclosed four samples from the silver mining district north of Yuma, Arizona, for identification. Please tell me them for lead, zinc and silver. I had an assay of about eleven ounces of silver on sample No. 1.

A. No. 1 is of twenty-two thumb specimens with a few small pieces of the samples are mixtures of calcite, a little barite, hematite and pyrite.

Calcite and hematite in the remaining samples. The fine pyrite is associated with the pyrite.

PLAN PLANE CONTEST

GARDINERVILLE (Nev.) June 26. (Exclusive)—The samples carry microscopical traces of arsenopyrite, pyrite, and malachite. Native gold has been drilled in the Altamira field. In July a successful producer was brought in for 10,000 barrels a day for some months, though it has not been determined since. The outlook for the development of this field is uncertain.

A. It is very doubtful that fire assays on such ore would come up to your set figure; it might get down to $50 per ton ore, or less. Price gold not present. The red rock carries iron, manganese, and amosite; malachite traces, and should yield 5.50 per cent metallic copper. Lead present and cinnabar absent. No reactions for bismuth or tungsten. For other gold and silver values kindly consult assayers.

TWO SPECIMENS

BAN BERNARDIN, June 26.—In separate package please find two kinds of ore. Kindly classify the specimens and state what they contain.

A. No. 1 is a siliceous rock, in part amphibole. It carries garnet, iron oxides, titaniferous iron quartz and rarer for copper, mica and lepidolite. No. 2, this clay carries nitrogen; No. 1, copper is not present. Microscopic to pyrite found in both samples.

MOTHER, VICTIM OF AMNESIA, LOSES BABY

LONDON, June 26. (Exclusive) — Scotland Yard has been called upon to find a woman whose whereabouts they lost memory shortly after the birth, several days later being discovered wandering about the streets. Detectives are trying to solve the three-fold mystery — where the baby was born, where it is now. Mrs. Mildred Fletcher, the mother, vaguely remembers being helped into a taxicab by two nurses.

PRINCE DENIES TITLE

Anatol Kalishhevsky, now a chemist for a Long Beach oil company, but formerly attached to the Czar's forces at Tiflis, Georgia. Serge's birthplace, declares he knew the title of Serge's father,
a military engineer of Serge's father, says that the title was not in the family at that time. The general's son, Vladimir, formerly a Russian army captain, says he attended military academy with his brother, and also corroborates his father in that title was unknown in the M'Divani family at that time.

When Serge was questioned about his early life at Tiflis, he declared his father had always used his title during his residence there. Serge says he never heard of the Kalishevskys.

Serge likewise is not concerned with documents credited to General George Comissaroff, formerly attached to the Russian forces at Sebastopol, who questions the title, and

Bullets Fly as Three Police Battle With Burglar Caught Trying to Enter Store

SUSPECT FLEES IN BLACK ALLEY

Prowler Believed Hit When Seen to Stumble

Found at Door of Valencia Street Establishment

Fugitive Fires Three Times and Then Shell Jams

Bullets whined and thudded in a revolver battle between three police officers and a burglar suspect when the latter attempted to break into the furniture store of Joseph McPherson at 760 Valencia street early yesterday morning. None of the officers was injured. The burglar, who succeeded in getting away, is believed to have been hit.

The suspect, according to a police report, was seen by a citizen Jimmy Hwang the front door of the store. The officers, Adams and Russell of the new Georgia-street division responded. They reported they saw the prowler at the door and commanded him to stop. He had been known of doing so when he whirled around and faced the officers with an automatic pistol.

Three times the suspect fired, the officers said, and the third time the shell jammed. Dropping his Jimmy gun the suspect ran into a dark alley as the officers opened fire upon him. He was seen to fall, regain his feet, and disappear around a corner.

BANDITS HOLD UP FAIR WITH ACID AND BURSTO

Two bandits using acid and bursto of revolvers held up D. Kahn and Fred Kollenberg in a cigar store at 145 South Spring street late Saturday night and robbed them of $270 in cash.

The victims reported to the police that when they attempted to resist, the bandits threw acid in their faces, partly blinding them. The robbery was perpetrated within two blocks of Central Police Station. No trace of the bandits has been found.

GIRL IN CELL ON SUSPENDED CHARGE

LONG BEACH June 26 (Echelon) — Dorothy Yvonne, 19, a pretty, is in a cell at the City Jail today as a burglar. Saturday night in a dance hall, according to the police version of her difficulties, Miss Marjorie Hoyt of 1100 Oceanview avenue here, dressed as Miss Broadway, was wearing as one of her garters a diamond bracelet given her by her father, Otis Hoyt. The latter is said to have followed Miss Hoyt to her home at 785 East First street and to have been arrested.

The officers say that found in the girl's room several of Miss Hoyt's dresses and a necklace of hers. Questioned, Miss Hoyt is said to have admitted she had stolen the store because by finding a hole in a screen door and unhooking it, on the 23rd inst. She was bathing on the beach near the house, she said, and was prompted by curiosity to enter.

BURGLAR RECAPTURED, PLADS TO BE KILLED

Sudden death from a bullet is preferable to a life term in prison, in the opinion of Arthur Carlson, youthful burglar, who made a break for liberty as he was being taken to Polk County jail at Duluth, Minn., on Oct. 26. Carlson, 22, years of age, was convicted of having committed fifty-two burglaries in Beverly Hills and his punishment was fixed at life sentence, he having served two previous terms for similar crimes.

As the train was nearing Modesto, according to the deputy sheriff, Carlson slipped from the train, washed out of the train and ran at top speed. Carlson, however, commanded a passing automobile and recaptured his prisoner after a lengthy chase. When overtake, Carlson, who had been offered a thousand dollars claiming he would rather be dead than to spend the rest of his life behind prison bars.

Plunder obtained by Carlson is said to have exceeded $60,000 in value, most of it was obtained from the homes of film actors.

PRINCE SENDS PROOF OF TITLE

Capt. P. D. Dumbadze, at present a New Yorker, who made the same statement.

"This is terrible," the Prince said. "I have my brothers, and I shall prove that I am what I claim when the time comes."

Serge explained that a title in the family of a Georgian is not limited to one son of a generation, but more or less to all sons when once it lights in the family.

He insisted that he, as a Georgian, is a bitter enemy of the Russians and that those who are now casting doubt upon his title are Georgians.

To prove his merit in his credentials are certified by A. M. Tchenkeli, Ambassador at the Georgian legation in Paris, and in the same breath admits that Tchenkeli has no official power since the Soviet government overran the Georgian Republic.

WORKED IN OIL FIELDS

Serge is the second member of his family via marriage, his brother David having wedded Mrs. Murray.

While David's title is also involved in the suit to be tried by Serge, David is in no way connected with the case, the Prince said.

Both brothers four years ago worked in the oil fields of Oklahoma, to learn the business, declared Serge, and not because of financial necessity. The brothers entered the field of oil in 1918. Andrew became my, Massachusetts, where they were students for a year. Serge worked as Burbank, Orange county, while David worked at Covington, Okla.

They are particularly well suited to follow this title for business career and never care if I bear it again, when I prove that I am not an impostor," Serge declared.

"Serge says he is the officer of "Georgian Exploration, Incorporated," with offices in London and Paris, and that the Los Angeles office he intends to open will be a branch of the same organization.

Legal Fight Over Receivers Goes on in Court troupe grows out of the overseas of Julian Petroleum stock.

"None of our people had any knowledge of such overseas until the final study disclosed the fact."

"We are trying to tell our partners in the underwriting and the public of the fact of the overseas. I do not know how the public for a moment can fail to see that the most likely explanation which perfectly obvious is the overseas of stock and nothing else."

"It is equally obvious that we would not have gone forward in the event of bank losses nor in an attempt to finance the California-Eastern Oil Company for the purpose of combining the properties had we thought for a moment that there was an overseas of stock."

(Signed) HENRY M. ROBINSON.

While Mr. Robinson offered the first constructive suggestion during the entire two months the corporation has been under various fires of investigation, the public has not been fully advised to accept the grand jury in returning twenty-six other indictments, in addition to twenty-nine already returned before Superior Judge Burnell.

BONDS POSTED

Sixteen bankers, promoters, stock brokers and former officers of A. C. Wagy & Co., Inc., and Julian Petroleum Corporation have surrendered to the first group of indictments and posted bonds ranging from $10,000 to $25,000. Three others under indictment have been accounted for, as the remainder of the first group of twenty-nine, according to the U.S. attorney's office, have agreed to surrender today.

The charges include conspiracy to violate the Corporate Securities Act and the lottery law, obtaining money under false pretenses, and conspiring to defraud the public by issuing spurious stock. The accused appear under various combinations of the federal laws.

Circuit Prosecutor Litchie announced that today he will continue his user drive against pool operators and money-lenders by issuing three or four complaints. His drive is aimed to reduce the number of operators apparently $18,000,000 obtained from the Julian corporation by the asserted usurers. He already has three brokers and money-lenders before the courts.

Another skirmish in the wide-spread Julian suit was scheduled today before the United States District Court of Appeals at San Francisco. United States District Judge McCormick is under citation to appear before that tribunal to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court in refusing to accept the appointment of receivers for A. C. Wagy and Co., Inc., a brokerage house, as ordered by United States District Judge St. Sur of San Francisco.

The latter court appointed Samuel G. Julian, alias E. H. Cochran of the Bay City receivers. They petitioned Judge McCormick for recognition as ancillary receivers for the Wagy concern in Los Angeles. He denied the petition, appointing John C. Julian, of Los Angeles, instead, which resulted in a caustic judicial controversy.

LIST OF ACCUSED

The names of those indicted in the first group who have appeared in court and posted bail are: I. L. House, vice-president of the Pacific Finance Corporation; Charles E. Lewis, H. F. Campbell and T. P. Conroy, former president, vice-president and secretary, respectively, of the Julian Corporation; Charles E. Reese and R. M. Reese, president and secretary of A. C. Wagy & Co., Inc.; Alvin Frank, Philip Weinstein, Weinstein, I. O. Levy and E. H. Rosenberg, brokers; H. W. Chotiner, broker and theater owner; E. Baethlein, jeweler; William C. Kotekian, architect and president of the Standard Pipe and Supply Company, and Louis Serman, broker and brother of Jack Serman.

David Gordon, broker, said to be traveling in Europe, and M. Guterman, mortician, both of the city, and his office and unable to surrender in court, also were indicted. Another true bill was returned in the group against Jacob Berman, alias Jack Bennett, so-called "right-hand man" of Julian, in a separate proceeding in New York, although not arrested.

With the announcement that fifty-five true bills had been voted on, the remainder to be returned today, Dist.-Atty. Keyes declared the grand jury will proceed further with the investigation with the possibility of further indictments.

READY FOR PRAY

As definite official action brought the first climax to the sensational case, the stockholders committee, which suffered some internal strife, was reorganized, progressing rapidly with incorporation plans under the chairmanship of D. Spurin, the original chairman. Offices are at 804 Stock Exchange Building.

In a letter being mailed to all stockholders, Dr. C. Julian, president, charged a plot to C. Julian, president, street promoter, which was intended to dominate the committee. He said a certain committeeman admitted he had no interest in stockholders, neither did he own stock, but was put on the committee "by C. Julian for C. Julian."

"Mr. Julian is a slick promoter," the letter signed by Spurin said, "who has promoted the people of this committee to believe that he owns $15,000,000 in some twenty different projects: only three or four of which ever paid anything back to the stockholders. He has evaded the laws and been in trouble continuously with the authorities who have attempted to protect us from their class."

"We promise you the members of this committee will represent your interests no matter when and how they are attacked: that we will not be afraid in fulfilling our duty for the stockholders even in the face of threatened physical force."

"This is a fight because many are fighting your assets. It is a fight because money have been obtained by unscrupulous persons and it is a fight because there are individuals who still think that under the guise of assisting the stockholders they can again

HARBOR FREIGHT SHOWS GAIN

PARK TO BE TAKEN OVER

Development of Banning Tract Will be Begun Soon in Wilmington

The city Park Department this week will take possession of the twenty-acre Banning homestead property in the Wilmington district and develop it for public park and playground purposes. The Banning homestead will be used as a museum for historical articles relating to Los Angeles and the harbor, and will also serve as a community center.

The property was purchased by the people of the Wilmington district last year when they voted a bond issue of $175,000 for the park. Superior Court Judge Crail last week confirmed the sale of the property to the city by Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, attorneys for the estate of the late Hancock Banning.

The property is magnificently treed and trees will be preserved by the Park Department.

The property was originally the homestead of the late Gen. Phineas Banning, Los Angeles pioneer. The house is said to be one of the finest examples of colonial architecture on the coast.

NO HARM DONE
This government by Dakota is not so bad. Maybe it depends on who is behind it.HIGHWAY ORTHOGRAPHY
"S-o-p Spells Stop," says a newly displayed highway placard. So one would infer by a wink from Webster; but to the reckless motorist it spells "step on it."N ADVANTAGE Men have a distinct advantage over women in the good old summer time. When it gets too warm they have something they can take off.THE OLD HOME If Grover Cleveland Bergdall tries to fly back to this country in a plane the American Legion will be glad to fix up a cactus landing for him.A DOG'S TALE Nearly $200,000 was collected in dog houses in California last year. That should entitle the pups to 1,000,000 dogs and tails wag. No wonder one of the best of Uncle Sam's undersea dogs is registered as K-9.A MONG FLEAS
An oriental scientist has won honor and distinction through his exhaustive researches in the life and habits of the humble flea. The more discovery that the male flea is able to whistle to his sweetheart is not going to ease the burdens of the world.A LINDBERGH ROOM Due to the generosity of Raymond Or-tig, donor of the $25,000 prize for the New York-Paris flight, the American Hospital in Paris now has a Lindbergh room. Mr.
Ortig contributed $10,000 to the fund for this room, while Lindbergh gave $500 while in Paris.A NYL A DUD
The lower branch of the Illinois Assembly passed a resolution asking the national Congress to call a constitutional convention to repeal the prohibition amendment. In the Senate the resolution failed of passage by a large margin. Washington would not have paid any attention to it, anyhow, so everybody is back where he started from.PATHS OF GLORY
Capt. Byrd flew all over the Arctic regions, but there were no crowds there to give him the freedom of the pole or to fight to get his picture. To gather glory one must go where the throng awaits. The Britisher who makes a nonstop flight from Bombay to the midst of London will get a greeting not accorded to kings and poten-tates.BASEBALL IN BRITAIN
Baseball at last has taken a strong hold upon the English. There are now 420 baseball teams in England and Wales, most of them being in London, Derby and Gloucester. In encouraging the game English newspapers tell of wonderful salaries made by American players. But then England will have to produce a Babe Ruth or a Ty Cobb before those salaries are paid over
there.BY DEGREES
Secretary Wilbur of the Navy Department is a graduate of Annapolis and was incidentally a California Supreme Court Justice at the time of his appointment.
Now the Pennsylvania Military College has made him a doctor of laws. It is up to the naval academy to make him a doctor of divinity and thus round out the recognition of a capable and popular official. The schools advance the worthy—by degrees.RICHLY DECORATED Thus far Col. Lindbergh has received eighteen different medals and decorations, to say nothing of the vox populi medal of merit. If he tried to wear them all at one time he would look like a bit of Tiffany publicity. He has more orders than any living American, but that is no sign that he has to take any. After all, he seems to like the iron pants button of the flying man as well as any of his gossy decorations.EASY PAYMENTS
The installment system is so prevalent in Sweden that it is even applied to the payment of fines in court. Fines are now assessed there in accordance with the offender's ability to pay, and he is permitted to settle in small installments. A monthly reminder of one's offense against the law should be all to the good in serving the ends of justice, which is to make people remember that violations must be punished.REASONS FOR OPTIMISM High spots at the June meeting of the California Development Association were reports that the steel industry of the State has increased 30 per cent in five years and now has a $700,000,000 output with 70,000 workers employed, that California has seventy-six airports and is fast taking the lead as the predominant American State in the realm of aviation, that sectional differences are rapidly disappearing and a united California for expansion and progress is approaching realization.Division within a State is always a mistake and usually is brought about by a few selfish interests, while the people as a whole lose the maximum fruits of industry through lack of co-operation. The industrial leaders of California are driving the opportunities to cover. There is not a public nor private interest in the State, including those which may have been at fault, but will profit greatly by the establishment of real State-wide co-operation for the general welfare and the universal progress of the citizens and the communities in which they live and work. Sincere Californians, patriots, north and south, are especially eager to bring about a lasting social, political and industrial union between the sections erroneously known as Northern and Southern California, for though both the north and the south are strong by themselves, two strong members can always do much more than twice as much as each working separately.That California leads and will continue to lead in aviation is a cause for pride and an incentive to new endeavor in this most modern of transportation activities. The State is by nature peculiarly adapted to aviation with the very best possible flying conditions, and its urge to progress in every modern enterprise has fostered aviation at the hands of forward-looking citizens of California. Through the achievements of Lindbergh and Chamberlin public interest in flying has been awakened to high pitch. Los Angeles is interested both officially and through her citizens, but politics has for a time messed up the consummation of plans for an adequate municipal airport. The metropole never lags long, however.One-fourth of the industrial structure of the State is built around its steel mills, a fact that will astonish many and please everybody. Although the present moment in world history has been variously described as the air age, the radio age and the electrical age, it is in any event a gi-antastic projection of the steel age. The backbone of progress is made of steel and the great demand for steel products in the State is indicated by the astounding growth of the steel industry and the millions of dollars represented in the annual turn-over, the tenth and a billion.All this demonstrates the fundamental basis of the industrial life of California and proves that in the growth recorded in the State the last ten years there has been not the slightest sign of boom conditions, but typical American progress based upon the best traditions of stabilized production and carefully organized home and foreign markets.The optimists of California development leaders is based upon no misty vagaries, but stands safely upon a foundation of convincing record and mathematically estimated advance. On top of these essential facts is the element of advertising and growth by accretion represented by figures showing that the last twelve months have witnessed the greatest tourist influx in California history. They keep on coming. The State keeps on growing. The Golden State is growing in five directions—the fifth comprising the realm of railways. The growth is healthy and the promise for tomorrow is as sincere and plausible as it is broad and bright.And when the cockpits were enlarged so that the men could wear parachutes, Griffith Park flyers say, air-service men severely criticized some one for permitting it because it was not according to regulations.

Now new equipment has been promised.

A complete new set of training planes is scheduled to be put into service at Griffith Park by next September.Let's hope it is more than a promise this time, for United States Army aviators are gaining a reputation for parachute jumping
instead of flying.A DISCIPLE OF FREEDOM
In the National Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest, just decided in Los Angeles,
J. H. Oberholser, a freshman from North Carolina State College, and a native of the Orange Free State, South Africa, was awarded the highest oratorical honors in the gift of the higher educational institutions of the nation.Mr. Oberholser has resided in the United States approximately one year. Within that year he has obtained such a firm grasp upon the underlying principles of the government of this nation that he could prepare and deliver this outstanding oration on the Constitution.Oberholser extraction, born during the dark days when Oom Paul and the Dutch patriots of South Africa were making a losing fight for the status of free men; Mr. Oberholser has had inculcated into him the principles for which those patriots fought and willingly gave their lives. To him Mafeking has the same hallowed significance as does Bunker Hill to Americans.
His thoughts from childhood have been centered upon the definition of freedom and upon his arrival in America he knew something about the Constitution—possibly more than the great majority of American boys.In America there have been notable deficiencies in the education of the youth of the land along patriotic lines. Great as have been the benefits of the oratorical contests, both in the secondary and higher educational institutions, there would appear to be still more need for inculcating in the citizens of the coming generation more of the foundation principles of our government. Possibly the parents are in need of instruction and enlightenment and some method may yet be devised to bring before them the same information that these contests are giving to youth.There is one outstanding and compensating circumstance. The next generation will of necessity be better informed through the enormous and widespread popularity of the present constitutional contests. The youth of today are learning the beauties and benefits of that instrument and they can be relied upon to carry the gospel to their children and their children's children.

A DOOMED TREE

Few school children who recite "Under the Spreading Chestnut Tree" have an adequate idea of what such a tree looked like, save from pictures. The chestnut has been vanishing from our American forests for over a decade, being the victim of a dark disease said to have originated in New Jersey. From that State the disease spread to New York, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and other States, and nearly all the large trees are dead. Younger ones that have grown from their roots or from nuts cast on the ground are sharing the fate of the old trees. The Federal Forest Service do not try to hew down.

MATTER OF INTEREST

$31,000,000 for police and fire protection, and they also paid $32,000,000 for interest and in payments on bonds and other deferred obligations. Passing the financial burden on to the next generation is the most costly item in the budget of the present. Practically all the money in the world goes every twenty years into the payment of interest. It is well that the receivers may times $100 for necessary legitimate campaign literature and expenses.

Crime: "Curse That Searchlight!"

(Protected by George Matthew Adams)

says there is no remedy for the chestnut blight and that the tree is doomed.The tragedy is national. This generation cannot enjoy the delights of chestnut-nutting and can think of the great courses imported nuts as the only ones obtainable.
Then, too, there is the lumber loss to be considered. Only second to the oak for woodwork, the chestnut long was used by the people of Eastern America for wainscoting and "trim." Soon it will be no longer available.The wiping out of the chestnut suggests other wholesale forest tragedies. Doubtless there were many tree species on this planet that have wholly disappeared. It would seem that man is a sufficient destroyer of trees without the employment of the forces of nature in this work of extermination.And when the cockpits were enlarged so that the men could wear parachutes, Griffith Park flyers say, air-service men severely criticized some one for permitting it because
it was not according to regulations.

A WASTE OF MONEY

What price city primaries? Well may the Los Angeles city taxpayers ask this question after the $114,872 spent for the May 3 primary election.This expense was the total cost of that election in spite of the most rigid economies exercised by City Clerk Dominguez.

Two amendments to the charter the City Clerk suggested and which were approved by the voters last year resulted in saving $30,000 in the cost of the election by the elimination of unnecessary precinct officers and duplicate records. Despite efficient city clerks, the cost of the primaries will increase as the city grows in population.And what purpose did the primary election serve? None. It was a waste of $114, 872 of the taxpayers' money.The primary election was simply used by a flock of candidates to secure personal advertising at the small expense to them of circulating nomination petitions and thus landing their names on the ballots. Most of them, had no chance at all of being nominated and wellWhat sound objection could be raised to abolishing the primary election? Seemingly none. Why should the taxpayers pay the cost of preliminary try-outs of those who seek city political jobs? If there were no primary election and the trend of opinion has been pessimistic. But there can be no majestic volcanic peaks without disturbance of the underlying strata, and now we have the ultra-modern youth as represented by Charles A. Lindbergh and Foster Rolt Lium, who preached his first sermon with President Coolidge on the steps of the White House.The experiences of these two boys prove that fate will deal fantastically and boldly

SOCIETY

Standing the other day in the mail room of the American Express Company in Paris, France, where all Americans traveling abroad eventually call, we noticed a young lady approaching a group, who might indeed have stepped from that treatise on the complexion preferred by gentlemen. This young woman and her companion, traveling together on their honeymoon, had arrived in Paris some three hours previously and were given the name of one in the Latin Quarter, at which she was continuing her operations on a complete pack of tourists. She was in her informant with a glance, and vicariously remarked that they were perfectly respectable and didn't frequent "any of those Styrian places."

What place? It is probable that she had been repeating in any of 100 restaurants, hotels, cafés, or business establishments in that section of Paris known variously as "Montparnasse," it would have been "the Latin Quarter," or "the quarter of the gods." English or else it would not have been understood: for the Latin Quarter has become the American Quarter.

So thoroughly American that one can live there, for instance, without hearing more than a smattering of French. In fact, we have acquaintances who have resided in the quarter for upward of a year without having adopted more than half a dozen words of French. They have no immediate need to fit it, so they make no effort to learn it. The waiters in the cafés and restaurants, they frequent speak English; the hotel at which they reside, however, is run by Americans as also are the shops in which they trade. Congregated near by are the United States Students and Artists Club, the American Student Association, the American University Women's Club, the American University Union. Those of whom we speak seldom leave the quarter. They have their little groups and their days are divided between apartment houses, studios, and parties. They read newspapers printed in their own language: they have their own weekly and monthly magazines, and if they feel inclined to do so, they can turn up to Ménimurine and talk English with tourists from the United States.

And at the end of their stay, they return to America as ignorant of the French language, customs, and ways of life as when they first visited another part of the United States.

But Montparnasse has its reputation as the world art center to sustain, and the French people still include it in their itinerary. The matron from Hutchinson, Kan., enjoying her afternoon tea, is pointed out by the guide in subdued tones as "Mrs. Wharton." What is Mrs. Wharton? The young woman writes: "the best known painter's model: a student from Fine Bluff Ark, who has neglected to have his hair cut easily is converted into a complete idiot in art center." A complete idiot.

The lady from Douglas, Wyo., seated in the tourist car, stared at the lady from Rutland, Vt., sipping a coffee and talking about her "interesting but how immoral" manners from her Wyoming home. "What a horrible hat," responds the lady from Vermont.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Lynds and Mrs. F. H. Miller have been visiting in Vienna as guests of the Dr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Downey.

Mr. William Younger of San Francisco gave a musical recital recently for Park and California friends at his apartment in the Rue Boissiere, Paris.

Opera gave a program, with Lawrence Whipp of Oregon at the piano.

Among those who accepted Mrs. Younger's invitation were Mrs. George C. Moore and Miss Margaret Nevada Palmer of Nevada; Commander Miner and Mrs. Powers Symington of Los Angeles and San Francisco; Mrs. Mary Longstreet and Paul McCulloch, the Santa Barbara pianist.

Alfred W. Skinner has returned to Los Angeles and is at the Hotel Schlosser for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. Levy of Santa Barbara have been visiting in London as guests of the Hotel Savoy.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis Murphy of Long Beach have arrived in Venice, Italy, and are staying at the Grand Hotel. Mrs. B. A. Simpson of Los Angeles and P. R. Lamour of San Mateo, Calif., are guests of the Hotel Royal Danubia.

Memberships who have been elected to the American Women's Club of Paris, include Princess Hasselhoff-Wittgenstein and Randolph Miner for Mrs. Mrs. Strohn of Beverly Hills, regular nonresident membership and Miss Mary Ann Strohn of Beverly Hills.

Frank A. Wallace of Pasadena has crossed to Europe aboard the Atlantic Transport liner Minnetonka.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard McCreary entertained last week at the Hotel de l'Europe for their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Harrison, who is passing through Paris on his way to Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Iselin have since stopped at the Grand.

Retaining a Schoolgirl Complexion

Only a true complexion soap is safe for your face

IT IS logical to expect a soap that would be good for laundering or household work to be safe for your delicate skin? No, say experts—when beauty is at stake, safety counts.

Some water is the heavy role of the day. A simple rule, based on nature's needs. But the soap you use must be a complexion soap, a soap that is kind to the skin, that embodies the cosmetic oils it needs. Any other would be too harsh.

Thus, largely on expert advice, millions use Palmolive Soap; touch their faces with no other. It is made for one purpose only—to protect and beautify the skin.

Wash the face gently with Palmolive. Massage its balmy oil

'SURE-FIRE' LIGHT FARE AT MOROSCO

Good Account Given by Players in Somewhat Trivial Comedy

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT How to write a successful play?

Put in the stuff that's "sure fire."

And there you have the reason for the title of the newest bit of entertainment perveyed at the Morosco Theater.

"Sure Fire" is the name of the play, and it is described as a vivacious comedy in four acts.

And that's all fair enough—it's being June and the start of momentarily perhaps of the summary type of lackadaisical playgoing.

As a matter of fact, "Sure Fire" is somewhat better than its title, which doesn't mean much, and besides inspires one to remark that the author might be wrong in his reasons for choosing it, because after all his play wasn't so "sure fire" as he thought it was.

Ralph Murphy, who wrote the piece, has done a comedy at least fairly apt in idea, and what he hasn't accomplished the Morosco stock company seems to inject into the production. As two men, the author and the monkey business, burlesquing the old hokum of melodrama, the show isn't bad.

In the plot we have, forthwith, the playwright in quite an interesting little bit of big public, and that will get away from highbrow artificially bred in Greenwich Village. We have him going out to the small town to secure a fresh and popular point of view, and finding that place still evaluates in the good old conventional melodramatic way.

Part of the plot is engineered by another, a "sure-fire" playwright, and together they turn out the "masterpiece" which is immediately purchased for production.

Meanwhile the playwright who sought atmosphere and a new inspiration succumbs to the realities of the plot which is discovered in his village. He becomes involved in a series of complications leading up finally to the slapping of handcuffs on his wrists, when he is induced to save the house he bought from his wife as a safe robbery. This is becoming the guilt himself. This is, done much against his will at the instigation of the other playwright who wants to make safe the sure-fire plot.

Like a majority of plays of this type, "Sure Fire" sketches a very thin and perhaps quite unlikely plot, but this does not dwell very heavily, judges from the reception given the piece at the opening upon an audience an amusement bent. There was plenty of laughter as compensation for the efforts of those upon the stage.

One could wish to see Miss Kay Hammond, the new leading woman, in a wortier part than she has in this play. The role of the daughter of the postmistress is triviality itself, and the author has not even attempted to raise it above the most conventional level at best. She will be liked for the personal tricks of pleasantness and cuteness which she brings to the playing of the part.

There is interest, however, to John Litel and Mitchell Harris, who provide plenty of animated comedy, and to Harry Garry for a good old-fashioned hick sheriff impersonation that is sure to be enjoyed.

William Franklin also enlivens the play with some flashes of broad comedy, while the juvenile, James Bush, does scenes of regeneration in the final act with some fine flourishes. Jane Morgan is particularly agreeable since she is the heroine's mother. Gay Seabrook and Frederick Fynn are among others in the cast. Miss Seabrook does one or two very acceptable scenes. James Durkin as the director of the school is a good addition to the cast.

"Sure Fire" won't hold up any traffic but with the performance of the cast the comedy will amuse and perhaps hold up for while.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

Elizabeth Hopper, premier dancer of the "Kodak" ballet, which is one of the colorful features of Laemmle's prologue to "Seven of Heaven," spent five hours daily during the entire run of "What Price Glory?" at the Carthay Circle Theater. She is the star of the first steps of the Apache Dance, which eliminates this troupe's number on the program.

The players will be introduced by Dave Good, musical maestro at the Uptown.

MYSTERY RULES LIFE AND DEATH

Woman of Many Names, Dying, Leaves Odd Tangle

Diverse Business Conducted Under Various Aliases

Demise to Be Investigated at Husband's Request

In the Probate Court, finally, all things come to light—that is say, all things having to do with property and goods. Whatever Carrie L. Kocotis may have been doing under the tangled cover of aliases, it will all be disclosed, because Carrie Kocotis died possessed of chattels worth $10,000 at least, a sum sufficient to warrant extended investigation, as such things go.

So questions will be asked and answered. The court will have to know about her activities as Carrie L. Brodie, sorority house mother, and the business she conducted under the name of Carrie Sullivan, and the other enterprise she managed as Carrie L. Williams, and what she was doing as Carrie Wright. And, above all, the law must be satisfied that the manner of her death was regular—or irregular.

Several days ago Theodore A. Kocotis returned to his home to find his wife missing. For five days he had no word of her, and then came a telegram from Mrs. Anna Maria Monica, informing him that she was dangerously ill in a private sanatorium there. He hastened to the place, and was told that she had died while he was en route. She had undergone a "face-lifting" operation.

Kocotis engaged Attorney Earl S. Wakeman to start probate proceedings. Wakeman began to unravel the tangled web he found—a tangle of skeins. He found that Mrs. Kocotis had been engaged in divers ventures under various names. As Carrie Wright she had as safe-deposit box. It was broken and found to contain jewels and securities worth less than $10,000. All of this was related in a petition for letters of administration, which have been filed.

Wakeman said yesterday he is also investigating the circumstances surrounding Mrs. Kocotis' death. An autopsy has been conducted by Dr. Wagner, county autopsy surgeon, and the same will be laid before the District Attorney.

Masonic Lodge Will Pay Honor to 30-Year Men

Southern California Lodge No. 278, F. and A. M., third oldest Masonic Lodge in Los Angeles, will give a reception next Wednesday evening at Masonic Temple, Pico and Figueroa streets, to the ninety-three men who have been members of the lodge for thirty years or more. These thirty-year members include former Gov. Stephens, former Judge Lucien Shaw, Deputy City Controller W. W. Stassen, former City Clerk Fred Pfadner, Past Master William P. Jeffries, who will be toastmaster of the evening; Judge N. P. Conroy, former Congressman John D. Fricker, former Mayor M. J. Snyder, and former City Attorney State Grand Master Dana R. Waller.

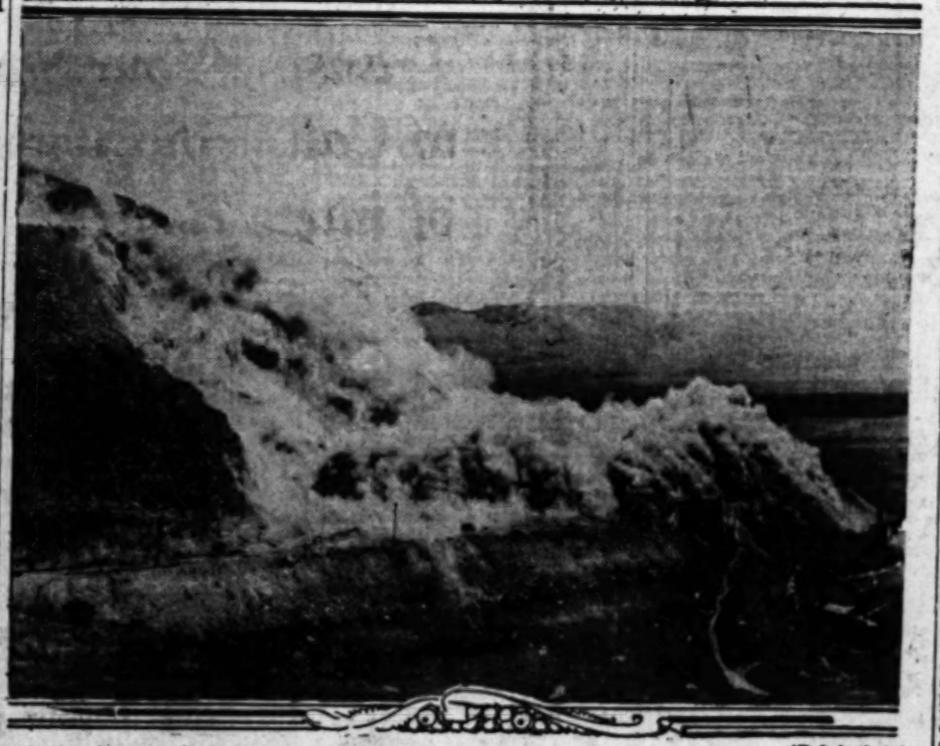

The welcome to the thirty-year men will be extended by Stanley A. Wilson, and the response for the veteran members of the lodge will be given by Gov. George W. Wright, while former Gov. Stephens will deliver the principal address of the evening. The arrangements for the reception and banquets were made by one of the lodge headed by George K. Seymour, Master, and W. W. Seaman, Secretary.

Worn-out mail pouches can be turned into fine grade writing paper, a government experiment reveals.

MOUNTAIN TORN TO PIECES

Charge of 200,000 Pounds of Dynamite Provides Material for Cement Machines

A limestone mountain weighing 500,000 tons, was blasted into raw material for Portland cement machines yesterday by the closing of an electric switch.

The current so let through set off 200,000 pounds of dynamite, buried several hundred feet under the base of the mountain, and some hundreds of spectators, gathered on a knoll of the Tehachapi range, a Monolith, felt a quiver underfoot and then saw a crack open across the face of the mountain and then an entire cliff catapult into the air and crash into the quarry.

Jets of smoke and columns of gray dust arose from the mass as motion-picture cameramen cranked their machines and still photographers worked speedily to get additional pictures before the action was all over. While the dynamite was being used, the quarry crew returned into action, laying portable tracks to the newly broken mass and advancing steam scoops mounted on caterpillars to load the cars that appeared quickly in the quarry.

Officials and engineers of the Mountain Company reported the shot a complete success and said the blast provided material for several months' work by the grinders.

CITY JAIL FUGITIVE HELD IN SAN DIEGO

Local authorities were advised last night of the arrest in San Diego of a man who had escaped from a San Diego apartment-house of Ramon Nabarro, one of twenty-three convicts who escaped from the Lincoln Heights Jail in June, 1926, after an ingeniously engineered jail delivery. When taken into custody, the fugitive was unable to identify himself as one of the Los Angeles prison escapees, but denied the theft of two diamond rings from the apartment. The arrangements for the reception and banquets were made by one of the lodge headed by George K. Seymour, Master, and W. W. Seaman, Secretary.

NOTABLES OF JEWRY AT BANQUET

Event Signifies Opening of Drive for Seminary in Palestine

Signaling the opening of a campaign here for funds in the interest of the recently established Yeshiva Seminary of Hebron, Palestine, the largest Talmudical academy in the world, 300 members of the Los Angeles Jewish colony banqueted last night at the Hebrew Sheltering Home, 324 South Boyle avenue, to formulate plans for furthering the educational program.

Twenty internationally known Jews were honor guests of the banquet. They were Rabbi M. M. Epstein, dean of Yeshiva Seminary; his brother, Ephraim Epstein of Chicago, rabbi of one of the largest congregations in the United States; and Cantor Josef Lichtenstein of New York.

Rabbi Epstein of Palestine, who has been a distinguished rabbinical leader and scholars of the generation, is completing a tour of America and Europe. In the interest of the Talmudical Academy, during his stay here he is the guest of the Rabbinical Association of Los Angeles.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

BITTER BATTLE ENGAGES VOTER

Azusa Shaken by Recall Contest

Police Department Active in Controversy

City Trusted Beck Object of Attack

AZUSA, June 26.—With members of the police department and their friends waging an active, personal campaign and City Trustees C. W. Beck carrying on a relentless, counter-campaign through paid newspaper advertising, one of the bitterest political fights here in many years will culminate Tuesday in a recall election.

At that time, an effort will be made to unseat Mr. Beck from the City Council and place Roy E. Martin, local druggist, in his place.

Beck charged that the recall was sponsored by "the old ring, who squandered thousands of your (Azusa taxpayers') dollars and now seek to regain their lost control and squander them more," while the other version is that Beck is "after the police department."

"The stink tide of viciousness" is the heading over Mr. Beck's final published plan to the voters and a four-week campaign of pamphlets and documents have been punctuated with such terms as "personal greed," "leeches" and "parasites of the legitimate taxpayer."

The fight started over an attempt to dislodge Motor Officer Carl Kimball from the Azusa police force.

Mr. Beck declared that Azusa "is the poorest policed town by day at $400 per month and by night at $200 per month in the State" and further contended that "to give a good live man a motor-cycle or police car and $200 per month would produce 'far greater results' than the present day officers at $400 per month."

At an executive session of the City Council, according to Mr. Beck, all five members of the board concurred in a decision to recall Mr. Beck "for inefficiency and inattention to duty." Mr. Beck, as chairman of the Police Committee, immediately notified City Marshal Gauldin, requesting him to do so.

Kimball refused to resign and a recall petition against Beck was circulated and submitted to the Council.

The motion ordered that the recall election be made by Beck.

Lankershim to Make Effort to Take New Name

LANKERSHIM, June 26.—A house-to-house canvass, sponsored by the Local Chamber of Commerce and Realty Board, will start tomorrow asking for an expression on whether Lankershim shall retain its name or be changed to North Hollywood, now that so many new subdivisions or developments are being built to move quarters to this vicinity.

The petitions which will be sent out tomorrow will be addressed to the postmaster at North Hollywood, D. C., and all wishing to have the change of name made are expected to sign the documents.

The Chamber of Commerce and other local organizations here assert that Hollywood, film capital of the world, is fast expanding into the Lankershim district, which is a part of the annexed territory of the city.

Plans are made for the best of advertising purposes Lankershim might as well be "North Hollywood," which certainly it has become within the last year.

The most conservative of leading interests here are behind the proposal to discard the old name, and the name North Hollywood likely to be adopted. It is to be noted that this section has borne Lankershim, having once been known as "Toluca" when Los Angeles was a small pueblo.

SUMMER TRAINING OPENS AT PALISADES

SANTA MONICA, June 26.—The sixth annual summer training conference of the United Presbyterian Church, Los Angeles, opened today. It runs from the 1st to July 5, at Pacific Palisades, the famed educational, resort and conference center on the north shore of Santa Monica Bay.

Activities at the conference this year will be placed on practical training for Christian workers in church and the church Bible school. New features on the summer training program this year will include outdoor work and community service, men's brotherhood work and religious education. The group method of instruction will be used, with recognized specialists from different parts of the Southland acting as group leaders.

COMBINE CONTROLS ALHAMBRA THEATER

ALHAMBRA, June 26.—On July 1 the Temple Theater, one of Alhambra's leading houses, will be turned over to the control of Principal Theaters, Inc., of which Sol Lesser and M. Rosenberg are the heads. This announcement of the sale of the lease and equipment was made today by O. Temple, for the past five and a half years, taking possession when the building was completed by the Temple Estates Company.

Principal Theaters, Inc., also controls the Garbo-Egyptian Theater here and nine or ten other movie theaters in Los Angeles and surrounding communities.

ADOLPHUS CITY OFFICE

PASADENA, June 26.—The office of City Veterinarian will be abolished July 1, when State inspectors will take over the job of inspecting and making tuberculosis tests of cattle which supply milk to Pasadena, according to City Manager George Miller. He has been City Veterinarian. The change will mean an annual saving of $6000.

TO LOCATE STUDIO AT VAN NUYS

Associated Artists Buy Site Mile West of Townsite for Picture Factory

VAN NUYS, June 26.—The Associated Artists Corporation, Inc., of New York, came today into possession of 100 acres of the W. J. Pett ranch, a mile west of the Van Nuys townsite, for a picture studio. The concern exercised an option on the land which was made last April. The picture company's property fronts a half-mile on Vanowen street and runs back about 160 feet on Balboa. The price paid, it is stated, was $1600 an acre.

The Associated Artists' Corporation is one of the leading producing companies which not long ago announced it intended to make its entire holdings in Southern California. Plans of the organization have not been disclosed. Nothing can be learned as to when the erection of the new studio will begin. It is understood that Pett will offer to the company another twenty acres should construction start at once. Pett has other holdings in the vicinity.

It is also announced here today that the Donald Parker Pictures Corporation, which first planned to have a studio site at Moonpark street and Fulton avenue, southeast of Van Nuys, will now build the studio on the Pett property on one of the two Tujunga washes, near the townsite and Victory Boulevard. In this connection something definite is stated, though it is learned that the Parker concern has made offers both to Pett and to Monrovia.

As a result of the recent announcement of the establishment of the $200,000 picture studio colony near Ventura Boulevard, between Van Nuys and Universal City, and the announcement of the purchase of the Associated Artists' Corporation by the markets here at Lankershim and in other parts of the central sections of San Fernando Valley are more ordinary active.

Agitation for Civic Center for Arcadia

ARCADIA, June 26.—Arcadia's need of a community civic center and public park containing a public library will be topics for discussion here on Wednesday, the 20th inst., when Dr. A. A. Armstrong, city planning expert, will address members of the City Council, City Planning Commission and civic and fraternal organizations.

At the next regular meeting of the Council, on May 18, last, Mr. Beck presented a resolution to the Council confirming the asserted action of the committee to initiate a bill to enable a second to his motion.

Kimball refused to resign and a recall petition against Beck was circulated and submitted to the Council.

The motion ordered that the recall election be made by Beck.

Lankershim to Make Effort to Take New Name

DR. AVONROCK recently spoke before the city planners, whose sentiment seemed to favor a park site on Duarate Road, combining a library site and community program.

The possibility of creating a county park in Arcadia was suggested as a modification of the city park idea.

Plans to purchase two additional lots for a library building, adjoining the present city library, have been temporarily halted, it was said, because of prohibitive prices asked.

It has been pointed out, it is one of the few communities lacking a civic center or public recreation park. A straw vote, taken several weeks ago, indicated that a tract bounded by Duarate, Huntington, Duarate Road and Huntington Drive, was the choice of the voters for a park site.

GOES TO JAIL FOR FAILURE TO PROVIDE

CORCORAN, June 26.—Ernest Evans, of this city, father of seven children, who was arrested for non-support of his family and physical ill-health, has been denied probation in Superior Court. He was sentenced to eighteen months in the County Jail, with the proviso that he is to work during the day and his wages be taken by the county probation officer and applied to the support of his family.

A week ago Evans was given the privilege of securing probation if he would support his family and this he was unable to furnish. Evidence secured here and in Armona showed that the accused was a capable worker, but he could not work steadily and spent his time in pool rooms. His wife and children were in court, but neither the husband nor wife had anything to say.

NAME CHANGING IS NEWEST VALLEY FAD

SAN FERNANDO, June 26.—Not to be outdone in the name-changing fad now going the rounds of the valley, a number of local residents are raising the question of a change of name for San Fernando, according to the San Fernando Daily News.

Dr. G. L. Clapton, western division manager of the United States Chamber of Commerce, County Supervisor Fred Beatty, County Flood-Control Engineer E. C. Eaton, Mayor J. P. Hough, Mrs. Oda Farnham, president of the reality board, and Joe Hums, commander of Monrovia Legion Post, No. 44.

APPOINTED CHAIRMAN

SAN FERNANDO, June 26.—Mrs. Oda Farnham, president of San Fernando Women's Club and vice-president of the San Fernando Valley Bar Association, has been appointed legislative chairman of the California Federation of Woman's Clubs.

For the evening will be Fred Beatty, County Flood-Control Engineer E. C. Eaton, Mayor J. P. Hough, Mrs. Oda Farnham, president of the reality board, and Joe Hums, commander of Monrovia Legion Post, No. 44.

INCREASE IN PHONES

VAN NUYS, June 26.—Plans now afoot to pave Sherman Way which runs through the north end of Van Nuys, clear across the floor of San Fernando Valley. When the whole is completed the distance will be seventeen miles. Sherman Way already is paved in the Van Nuys to the western end of the valley. The Bureau City Planning Commission has taken action toward the opening and paving of the street from San Fernando Road on Northwestern Highway to Burbank Drive on the western edge of the valley. The road will be paved in a westerly direction to Van Nuys Boulevard, a distance of five miles. An ordinance for this last road is now pending before the Los Angeles City Council. The new thoroughfare will be paved with six-inch concrete and will have a width of twenty feet.

REDLANDS TO BE HOST TO THROB

REDLANDS, June 26.—Forty thousand persons will be attracted here by the Fourth of July celebration which is to be staged by the Order of Junior Mechanics of the State. Arrangements were completed today for an air circus in the afternoon, a big parade in the morning and an old-car race which is to be one of the features. The Chamber of Commerce is preparing the downtown portion of the city for the celebration and the City Trustees are providing a band.

HANFORD CITY OFFICE

He has been City Veterinarian. The change will mean an annual saving of $6000.

TO CONTINUE COURT FIGHT

Seek to Oust Sanatoria From Monrovia

Case Has Continued Over Ten-Year Period

Legality of Ordinances in Question

MONROVIA, June 26.—City Attorney William Fleet Palmer announced today that a new complaint will be filed tomorrow against Miss Katherine Decker, proprietor of the Monrovia Sanatorium, for violation of the city zone ordinance regulating operation of tubercular sanatoria, and Monrovia's ten-year struggle to prevent operation of these institutions in residential and business zones will be renewed.

The latest effort to settle this problem was lost Friday when Miss Decker, convicted in the local courts on a fine of $150, was granted a new trial. Superior Judge Hardy ruled on a technicality. The sanatorium zone ordinance has been amended three times and it was discovered that the complaint in the Superior Court cited a copy of one of the amending ordinances which had been repealed.

Although this case was decided on a legal technicality, the issues were discussed at length. Judge Hardy declared that he would question the validity of Monrovia's ordinance.

Under certain conditions as to size of property and distances from other dwellings, the keeping of one or more patients in a room is not a violation of the ordinance. A sanatorium is defined as a place where five or more patients are kept for pay. Any number of patients can be lodged any place in the city if no zone is made for their care, it was said.

Judge Hardy indicated that allowing care of one or two patients and prohibiting a larger group might involve a legal question of discrimination.

If a new complaint is filed, Judge Hardy said that medical testimony would be obtained to determine whether five patients constitute more of a public-health menace than one or two.

City officials were disappointed by the city's defeat on a technicality as years have been spent in efforts to curb the operation of institutions and determine whether or not the local sanatorium zone law can be enforced.

In 1929, the City Council established a sanatorium zone near the boundaries of Monrovia and Arcadia and passed an ordinance prohibiting operation of such institutions in any other part of the city. Other sanatorium owners complied with the law but Miss Decker decided to fight the case in court.

Jewish Order Hold Meeting at Long Beach

LONG BEACH, June 26.—The sixty-fourth annual convention of District Grand Lodge No. 4, Independent Order B'nai Brith, opened at 10 a.m. today at the Hotel Huntington and will continue until Tuesday evening.

About 400 delegates are present from the Pacific Coast and British Columbia. There are also conventions of the women's auxiliary and of a junior auxiliary.

The main convention was opened by Maurice L. Raphael of Fresno, grand president; the women's auxiliary by Mrs. Ethel Copeland, junior auxiliary, and the junior auxiliary by Besse Miller of San Francisco.

The convention of the order was welcomed by the city by Mayor C. C. Cady and the trustees given by Harry L. Cohn, local attorney and chairman of the arrangements committee. Tomorrow the delegation will go to the beach for a picnic at Bisby Park, and tomorrow night there will be a public information meeting of new members into the order. Rabbi Herbert Goldstein of the Central Congregation, and local bank heads will serve on the reception committee.

THREE HUNDRED YEARS MARRIED

Centuries of Wedded Bliss at Celebration

Six Couples, Long Partners in Attendance

Compliment: Dr. and Mrs. O. P. Gifford

PASADENA, June 26.—In Pasadena, three couples, each of whom has been married more than 100 years, have dedicated their golden wedding anniversary in an unusual ceremony at First Baptist Church of this morning.

Dr. Gifford is a widely known veteran minister of the First Baptist Church, and for many years has been one of the men of the First Baptist Church here. The First Baptist Church has been a pillar of the school system since its features on the occasion of his wife's 100th anniversary.

The most unusual part of the ceremony was that the man and his wife, who have been married over fifty years, are both of Dr. Gifford's age.

Changing Los Angeles

As in all cities, there are districts in Los Angeles literally being torn down and rebuilt in order to make them conform to the new living standards. Antiquated apartment houses and office buildings give way to modern structures; old homesites are razed for skyscrapers; subdivisions and suburbs are dotted with new dwellings.

Out of this constant change and growth come handsome profits for those who own real estate. An investment today may yield substantial profits or even a fortune later on. Such, at least, has been the experience of many who were guided to good investments through the real estate columns of Times Want Ads.

The most unusual part of the ceremony was that the man and his wife, who have been married over fifty years, are both of Dr. Gifford's age.

JUDGE FINED FOR EXCEEDING SPEED LIMIT

SAN GABRIEL, June 26.—Judge F. P. Guadano of San Gabriel heard down heavily on speed and other traffic offenses yesterday before him every was to be fined $100 for exceeding the speed limit of 20 miles per hour.

Judge Guadano and a defendant, Harold Edens, were coming through San Gabriel Tuesday evening. The pace was so fast that the gas would perfectly fail to keep up with the gas in order to keep up with the motor.

A motorcycle officer sent two cars to the curb and the two drivers were fined $100 in court Saturday.

AUTO LOANS—
and Financing

Auto Loan Truth
An excessive amount of time is due to DELINQUENT PAYMENTS and the consequent expense of collection, which is the major portion of this loss, WHICH IS DEFLATED TO THE RATES PAID TO BORROWERS. We include a collection fee in all contracts. ALL FEES AND EXPENSES SUM SO INCLUDED if payments are late, and will be deducted at date. NO INSURANCE IS REQUIRED or existing policies canceled. Our rates are the lowest in the country, saving you money. WE SPECIALIZE IN AUTO LOANS and we are facing at rates impossible to duplicate. OUR LENDERS ARE REPUTABLE and we have no trouble dealing with the public is our motto. INTEREST $2.50 PER $100 for first month, longer time at slightly increased cost.
